A Room with a View

Twenty letters from artists, reflecting upon their experience during lockdown.

Lightbox brings together the contributions to the editorial column, into a publication.

"A Room with a View / Camera con vista" is a series of letters from both Italian and international artists invited to share with us their experience of isolation during Covid-19. The letters were published every week from April 8th onward on myartguides.com exactly as we received them. This provided the opportunity to discover artists in a more intimate dimension, away from the spotlight of art events and inside their houses.
